

Make an impact and get recognised

An introduction to becoming a
Chartered Project Professional (ChPP)

Introduction

2

Who is chartered for?

3

Benefits of having chartership

4

How to achieve chartered status

5

Pathways to chartered

6

What support is available?

7

Hear from our Chartered Project Professionals

8

Introduction

We're APM: Association for Project Management. We're the only chartered membership organisation representing the project profession in the world. We set the standards for the profession and raise its profile. We're a registered charity, delivering learning opportunities and developing qualifications, conducting research and providing resources.

In our changing world, project professionals are at the forefront of delivering change and the environment for project delivery is becoming ever more complex. The project profession needs to be better understood, to have consistent standards and to set the highest bar.

Marsha Dennis ChPP, MAPM

What is the Chartered Project Professional (ChPP) standard?

Chartered status shows you've achieved the highest standard of expertise and have proven your exceptional project capabilities. You will be assessed on your technical knowledge, professional practice and ethical behaviour and on success, you will gain Chartered Project Professional (ChPP) status, and inclusion on the Register of Chartered Project Professionals. The standard has been designed to be equally accessible to individuals both with or without project management qualifications (APM or others) but with significant relevant experience of projects, programmes or portfolios. It's drawn from the APM Competence Framework. We recognise the diverse paths individuals take into the profession, offering four pathways to ChPP.

Who is chartered for?

Project professionals that:

- Are professionally active with a proven track record of delivering projects, programmes, portfolios or work in a key control or enabling function that exhibit characteristics of complexity.
- Have the required breadth of project experience to meet the competence requirements.
- Have an advanced technical knowledge and can confidently evaluate and analyse theory of current practices and methods.
- Are committed to continuing professional development and an ethical way of working.

Our Chartered Project Professionals span a range of sectors, ages and career stages, from organisations big and small.

You don't need to be an APM member to apply

There is no minimum years' experience requirement

Benefits of employing Chartered Project Professionals for organisations

- Improved project outcomes: Chartered Project Professionals bring enhanced skills and knowledge, leading to improved project planning, execution and successful outcomes.
- Enhanced reputation: Employing Chartered Project Professionals boosts your organisation's reputation, instilling confidence in stakeholders and clients.
- Greater project management capability: Organisations benefit from having qualified professionals capable of handling complex projects efficiently.
- Higher standards of professionalism: Having a team of Chartered Project Professionals promotes a culture of professionalism, accountability and excellence within your organisation.
- Enhanced client trust: Clients trust organisations with Chartered Project Professionals, knowing they are backed by credible expertise and industry recognition.
- Competitive advantage: Organisations with a strong team of Chartered Project Professionals have a competitive edge in bidding for projects and securing new business.

Benefits of being a Chartered Project Professional for individuals

- External validation: Becoming a Chartered Project Professional gives you recognition, credibility and reinforces your expertise. This validation of your skills enhances your reputation and opens doors to new opportunities for success.
- Increased earning potential: 58% of Chartered Project Professionals earn over £70,000. With industry recognition, enhanced expertise, and proven skills, professionals may command higher salaries and rewarding career opportunities.
- Being trusted matters: As a Chartered Project Professional, you earn the trust and confidence of both clients and peers, solidifying your credibility and recognition within project management.
- Enhanced career opportunities: Achieving chartership elevates your professional standing, making you more attractive to employers and opening doors to higher-level roles and responsibilities.
- Competitive advantage: Chartership sets you apart in a competitive job market, making you stand out to potential employers and clients.
- Networking opportunities: Joining a community of fellow Chartered Project Professionals provides valuable networking opportunities allowing you to connect and collaborate with like-minded professionals in the field.

How to achieve chartered status

Choosing your pathway

The application process is designed to be as inclusive as possible with different pathways according to your qualifications, previous assessments and experience. The same requirements for technical knowledge and professional practice apply to everyone but they are tested in different ways. There are four pathways, dependent on whether you hold a recognised assessment and what it covers. The online application process will direct you accordingly.

Alex Rabey-Bennett ChPP, MAPM

Pathway 1:

For those who meet the eligibility criteria but don't have a recognised assessment.

Pathway 2:

For those who meet the eligibility criteria and have a recognised assessment for technical knowledge.

Pathway 3:

For those who meet the eligibility criteria and have a recognised assessment for professional practice.

Pathway 4:

For those who meet the eligibility criteria and have a recognised assessment for both professional practice and technical knowledge.

New

Pathway 1

Previously route 3

For those who meet the eligibility requirements but don't have a recognised assessment.

Assessment

- Written submission including project overviews for professional practice covering 12 competences.
- Two hour interview covering professional practice and technical knowledge.

Pathway 2

Previously route 1

For those who meet the eligibility requirements and have a recognised assessment for technical knowledge.

Assessment

- Recognised Assessment for technical knowledge.
- Written submission including project overviews for professional practice covering 12 competences.
- One hour 15 minute interview covering professional practice.

Pathway 3

For those who meet the eligibility requirements and have a recognised assessment for professional practice.*

Assessment

- Recognised Assessment for professional practice.
- Written submission including project overviews for professional practice covering eight competences.
- One hour interview covering technical knowledge.

Pathway 4

Previously route 2

For those who meet the eligibility requirements and have a recognised assessment for both professional practice and technical knowledge.

Assessment

- Recognised Assessment for technical knowledge and professional practice.
- 30 minute interview covering CPD and currency of mandatory competences.

All submissions require

- Details of two proposers.
- Confirmation of CPD undertaken.
- Agreement to commit to and comply with the APM Professional Code of Conduct.

*APM Project Management Qualification holders must validate their experience before applying.

All interviews will include questions on ethics, compliance, and professionalism.

What support is available?

We offer a range of resources to assist you with your ChPP application:

ChPP Self-Assessment Tool

The tool helps you to assess and support your readiness to apply for chartered status. It assists in identifying what evidence is most appropriate to use in your application, and also outlines areas of possible development needs if you are working towards achieving chartered status in the future. The tool can be accessed here

Support Clinics

We run a range of monthly support clinics to help you through your application to becoming a Chartered Project Professional.

- Understanding the chartered application process.
- Preparing your chartered application: your application.
- Preparing your chartered application: your interview.

These support clinics are available to all and are free to attend, for more information please visit the support services webpage. There are other support services available from third parties, please note these haven't been endorsed by APM.

APM Competence Framework

The chartered standard is aligned to APM Competence Framework 3rd edition, do ensure you familiarise yourself with our framework, this is accessible to all on our website.

APM Mentoring Programme (APM member benefit)

The mentoring programme sees project professionals from across different industry sectors connect with fellow project practitioners from its community of members, with mentors sharing their invaluable experience and knowledge. The APM Mentoring Programme is housed within our community platform, in this secure online space, you will be able to connect with a mentor of your choice and work together to achieve your outlined goals for the programme.

Natasha Forrester ChPP, MAPM

Hear from our Chartered Project Professionals

Becoming a Chartered Project Professional (ChPP) has been a huge milestone for me, both in my own professional development and as a member of the profession contributing more broadly to society. The chartered standard is a fantastic framework for project professionals to benchmark their skills and round out their development, particularly in early and middle career stages. I have achieved recognition of my project delivery experience and been able to draw on the APM Body of Knowledge and support of other industry professionals to understand what 'good' looks like and how I can improve my own practice. These are tangible benefits but most important is the confidence ChPP has given me in my delivery capabilities to progress my career and seek additional responsibilities – I do not view the chartered standard as an end point, but more of a beginning in broadening my professional horizons and continuous development.

Alex Rabey-Bennett ChPP, MAPM
Senior Project Manger

Achieving Chartered Project Professional status has had a huge impact on my confidence and self-belief. I have always suffered from 'imposter syndrome', doubting whether my project experience is as complex or challenging as that of my peers. Achieving this standard has given me the confidence to see myself progressing my project management career further. It's becoming more requested for senior roles within the public sector, so it's great to feel prepared for my next step. It is a huge professional achievement and to me, it makes me feel like my experience is validated. But more than that, it's a commitment I've made to myself and the profession to make sure I always do the right thing and continue to develop myself. It's the ongoing commitment that makes me really feel part of the wider project community not just within my organisation.

Helen Donaghy ChPP
Portfolio Delivery Lead

48%

of Chartered Project Professionals feel like being chartered has a positive impact on salary*

89%

of Chartered Project Professionals are satisfied with their job*

58%

of Chartered Project Professionals earn over £70,000*

90%

of Chartered Project Professionals earn over £50,000*

*APM Market and Salary Trends Survey 2023

We are the only chartered membership organisation for the project profession

Association for Project Management
Ibis House, Regent Park, Summerleys Road
Princes Risborough, Bucks HP27 9LE
0845 458 1944
apm.org.uk

Association for Project Management is incorporated by Royal Charter RC000890 and a registered charity
No. 1171112. Principal office as shown.